

SECRET ANGLE

This will plot the secret angle from low to high OR vice -versa. This method is based on Michael Jenkins Secret angle method. Once you click swing low and high points, all the important time lines, support lines, up angles, down angles, its subdivisions are plotted automatically to give us the guidance path of the future price and time levels of the scrip. It has been observed that most of the time the scrip changes its direction from the white color vertical line which is at the intersection of two cross lines. The magenta color line also works as the support.
